8.A Parental Code of Conduct

The parent plays a critical role for the athlete in terms of both physical and athletic development. The parent must understand and respect the relationship and commitment their child makes to be a member of a team. The parent should realize that the child must understand and adhere to the values and goals of their coach and the CMHA in order to achieve complete success. The parent, as a role model for their child, is expected to conduct him/her in a manner that will allow the values and goals of the organization to be achieved. The parental code of conduct has been created to inform parents of an expected level of behaviour which will allow all sports participants to become well rounded, self-confident, and productive human beings and enhance their and others enjoyment of the event.

PARENTS HAVE THE RESPONSIBILITY TO:

1. Treat everyone fairly within the context of his or her activity, regardless of gender, place of origin, color, sexual orientation, religion, political belief or economic status.
2. Direct comments or constructive criticism at the performance rather than the individuals
3. Consistently display high personal standards and project a favourable image of the sport.
 - a) Refrain from public criticism of athletes, coaches, officials, volunteers, and other parents
 - b) Refrain from the use of profane, insulting, harassing, or otherwise offensive/derogatory language.

Consider the athlete's future health and wellbeing foremost when making decisions regarding a time frame for return to playing or training.

6. Treat opponents and officials with due respect both in victory and defeat, and encourage athletes to act accordingly. Actively encourage athletes to uphold the rules of their sport and spirit of the rules.
7. Be involved, understand the development decisions pertaining to the athlete, communicate, and co-operate with the staff in achieving this development.
8. Resolve all conflicts without resorting to hostility or violence. Discuss all concerns with team staff in a responsible, respectful and open-minded manner.

PARENTS MUST:

9. Never force the athlete to participate in sports.
10. Teach the athlete that doing one's best is just as important as winning or losing, so that the athlete never feels defeated by the outcome of the game or event.
11. Remember that the athlete plays for his or her enjoyment not for the parent's.
12. Make the athlete feel like a winner by offering praise for competing fairly and trying hard.
13. Show respect and show appreciation to the volunteers, officials, and coaches for their time given to provide the sporting activities for the athlete.
14. Remember not to have unrealistic expectations and understand that the athletes are not professionals and cannot be judged by professional standards.
15. Never ridicule or single out any athlete for making a mistake during a competition and offer positive comments that motivate and encourage continued effort from all participants.

16. Never condone the use of violence in any form and express their concerns in an appropriate manner to the coaches or association executive.
17. Abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages on team busses or other forms of transport

8.B Rostered Staff Code of Conduct

The athlete/coach relationship is a privileged one. Team Staff play a critical role in the personal and athletic development of their athletes. In this relationship, there is an inherent imbalance of power and Team staff members must recognize this and be careful not to abuse it. Team staff members must recognize they are the source through which values and goals of the team and CMHA are channelled. Thus, how an athlete regards his/her sport is often dependent on the behaviour of the Team staff. This code of conduct has been created to inform Team staff of an expected level of behaviour, which will allow their athletes to become well-rounded, self-confident and productive human beings.

Although this code is directed toward rostered staff conduct, it also applies to all members of the Team Staff including Administrative Coordinators and on ice-helpers. It is assumed that these people act in co-operation with one another to construct a suitable environment for the athlete.

TEAM STAFF HAVE THE RESPONSIBILITY TO:

1. Treat everyone fairly within the context of his/her activity, regardless of gender, place of origin, color, sexual orientation, religion, political beliefs, or economic status.
2. Direct comments or constructive criticism at the performance rather than the athlete.
3. Consistently display high personal standards and project a favourable image of their sport and coaching.
 - a) Refrain from public criticism of fellow coaches, athletes, officials, volunteers, and parents.
 - b) Abstain from the use of tobacco products while in the presence of athletes.
 - c) Abstain from using alcoholic beverages while working with athletes.
 - d) Abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages on team busses or other forms of transport.
 - e) Discourage the use of alcohol by athletes in conjunction with athletic events or at playing sites
 - f) Refrain from the use of profane, insulting, harassing, or otherwise offensive/derogatory language in the conduct of his/her duties.
4. Ensure that the activity being undertaken is suitable for the age, experience, ability and fitness level of the athletes and educate the athletes as to their responsibilities in contributing to a safe environment.
5. Communicate honestly, the severity of athlete's injuries incurred while participating in sport. Follow the recommendations of registered medical practitioners involving treatment and management of athlete's medical and psychological problems. Consider the athlete's future health and wellbeing foremost when making decisions regarding time frame for return to playing or training.

6. Recognize and accept when to refer athletes to specialists or other coaches. Understand and communicate that the athletes' goals take precedence over and above your own.
7. Regularly seek ways to up-grade personal development and self-awareness.
8. Teach athletes to uphold not only the rules but also the spirit of the rules, and to respect opponents and officials both in victory and defeat.

8.C Athletes Code of Conduct

In personal as well as athletic development, the athletes play the most critical role. They must understand and respect their relationship and the commitment that is required to be a member of a team. To achieve complete success the athlete should recognize and understand the values and goals set by the team and the CMHA. Thus, how athletes regard their sport is often dependent upon their level of behaviour and ability to conform to team concepts. The following

Code of Conduct has been developed to guide athletes to achieve a level of behaviour, which will allow them to become well rounded, and self-confident and productive human beings.

ATHLETES HAVE A RESPONSIBILITY TO:

1. Treat everyone fairly within the context of his or her activity, regardless of gender, place of origin, color, sexual orientation, religion, political beliefs or economic status.
2. Direct comments or constructive criticism at the performance rather than the individual.
3. Consistently display high personal standards and project a favourable image of their sport.

5. Participate in all team events and testing and satisfy all team program/testing objectives
6. Communicate honestly with training staff, all injuries and any diagnosis of registered medical practitioners involving treatment and management of their medical and psychological problems. Athletes also have to consider future health and wellbeing when making decisions regarding a time frame for their return to playing or training.
7. Put team goals above their own individual goals
8. Regularly seek ways to improve their athletic development and self-awareness.
9. Not only uphold the rules of the game but also the spirit of those rules and encourage other athletes to do the same.
10. Treat opponents, teammates, and officials with due respect both in victory and defeat and set an example for other athletes to do the same.
11. Be aware of the role sports play in all athletes lives and respect the pressures that may be placed on themselves and other athletes as they strive to balance physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual elements of their lives.

ATHLETES MUST:

12. At no time, allow individuals who may request sexual favours or use the threat of reprisal for rejections to go unreported.
13. Only participate because they want to and not just because their parents or coaches want them to.
14. Control their temper and remember fighting or offensive language and behaviour can spoil the event for everybody.
15. Remember that winning isn't everything and that having fun, improving skills, making friends, and doing their best is important.

16. Remember that coaches and officials are there to help them and athletes must accept their decisions and show them respect.

8.D Volunteer/Executive Code of Conduct

Volunteers/Executive members play a critical role in the operation of sports organizations and their activities. Through their responsibilities, the volunteer/executive member receives rewards such as personal development, recognition, feedback, a tie to family and community and the personal satisfaction of helping others. In return, volunteers/executive members must be expected to conduct their efforts in a manner that will allow the values and goals of the CMHA to be achieved. Thus, how a participant regards his/her sport is often dependent on the leadership of the volunteer/executive members. The following Code of Conduct has been developed to inform volunteers/executive members of the expected level of behaviour, which will allow all participants to become well-rounded, self-confident and productive human beings.

VOLUNTEERS/EXECUTIVE MEMBERS HAVE A RESPONSIBILITY TO:

 - b) Refrain from using tobacco products while in the presence of the athletes.
 - c) Abstain from consuming alcohol while performing volunteer/executive duties.
 - d) Discourage the use of alcohol in conjunction with athletic events or other activities at the playing site.
